

Spartans over 'Ballers

This is Stephan A Smith and quite frankly I'm here to tell it to you like it is.

Spartans are going to beat the Ballers you heard it here folks. The Ballers with the high socks and the 1-2-3 chants ain't got nothing on the Spartans. This is Sparta baby.

Do the Ballers have a chance of course they have a chance but that chance lies on Talha Ghumman. Talha Ghumman is the real heart and soul of the Basketballers, as he goes the Ballers go. He has had games where you think he is the MVP of the SABL with 20+ points and 10 rebounds, in.....BACK TO BACK games. He has followed those games up with games where he goes scoreless....SCORELESS yes you read that right, and he is the key to the game? We getting a 20 and 10 or a 0 and 4??? You hear that Talha Basketballer nation is counting on you!

Rex aka T-Rex quite frankly is the key to the game for the Spartans. He is going to control the paint and he has to stay out of foul trouble. You look up warrior in the dictionary and you see a big picture of T-Rex, he will go ahead and vomit a few times but he will be back on the court to grab rebounds and put them back for the Spartans.

This game is about defense and who is going to play the best defense. The Spartans are the best defensive team and in the playoffs when points are hard to come by the team with the better defense is going to win this game.

This is where Spartans lives and the Basketballers die, this is Stephen A Smith and quite frankly the Spartans are moving on to round 2...now where's my CHEETOS!
